

ABSTRACT

When a microtubule-interfering agent having an antitumor effect is used in combination with an ERK-MAP kinase cascade inhibitor, the antitumor effect of the microtubule-interfering agent is remarkably potentiated. Accordingly, a combination of a microtubule-interfering agent and an ERK-MAP kinase cascade inhibitor is useful as a very effective antitumor agent.

09869916-070901